It's The Things On The Inside That Matter

Shopping for a good watermelon is difficult because no matter how good it looks on the outside, it's hard to tell what it's really like on the inside. We can tap it, thump it and squeeze it, only to take it home and discover that the inside is not edible.

On one occasion when Jesus' disciples did not wash their hands before eating, the Pharisees became extremely irritated because it violated one of their man-made traditions (Mark 7:1-8). Jesus immediately challenged them by saying: "All too well you reject the commandment of God, that you may keep your tradition" (Mark 7:9).

He went so far as to call them "hypocrites" (Mark 7:6) and explained that what comes from the inside of an individual is what "defiles" him, not the other way around (Mark 7:14-23).

If we're not careful, we can become so absorbed with looking good on the outside, that we forget what really counts. In fact, when we get to the place where we think "we've arrived," we may become proud of ourselves and judgmental toward others. Harboring bitterness, clinging to critical attitudes, and thinking too highly of ourselves are the kind of defiling things that make us guilty of Jesus' charge of being a "hypocrite."

The point is this: It's the things on the inside of our heart — our thoughts and attitudes that really matter to the Lord (cf. 2 Corinthians 10:5; John 4:23-24).

Blessings From Being Punctual

Growing up I was in "that family." You know the one. The one by which you measure yourself. My family was the "late family." If you pulled into the church parking lot and saw the brown '78 Toyota Celica or silver Cavalier station wagon, you knew you were late.

I think now about all the things our family missed out on by being late. There are many blessings to being on time for worship services and Bible study.

- Being on time gives time for fellowship. Spending time conversing and building up other Christians is a blessing (Heb. 10:24).
- Being on time gives one time to prepare for worship. When we are late, we feel rushed. By getting to worship on time, there is time to relax and focus on studying God's Word.
- Being on time is an encouragement to Bible teachers. They have spent a great deal of time in preparation. When a child comes in late, teachers often restart the lesson. Precious time is lost. It is an interruption and distraction to the adult class, too.
- It sets a good example. We are on time for things that are important to us. Let's show our children and our church family that worship and Bible study are important.

Let us always try to be on time for worship and Bible study.

YOUTH CORNER Chad's Chatter

For JESUS has been counted worthy of more glory than Moses-as much more glory as the builder of a house has more honor than the house itself. (For every house is built by someone, but the builder of all things is GOD.) Now Moses was faithful in all GOD'S house as a servant, to testify to the things that were to be spoken later, but CHRIST is faithful over GOD'S house as a SON. And we are HIS house if indeed we hold fast our confidence and our boasting in our hope.

Hebrews 3:3-6
