Enter His Gates With Thanksgiving

Four year old Christopher was called on to say the prayer of thanks before the meal. "Oh, mom, do I have to? I don't know how." "Sure you do. Just thank God for our many blessings." With one eye devoutly closed in prayer and the other eye discreetly open so that he could look around as he prayed, Christopher thanked God for everything in sight.

"Thank you, Lord God, for the chicken, the roast beef, the gravy, the potatoes, the tomatoes, the cantaloupe, the slaw, baked beans, salt, pepper, knives, spoons, forks, place mats, tablecloth, napkins," on and on he went, naming everything on the table. His brothers and sisters snickered; mom and dad smiled as they tried so hard to keep from laughing out loud as Christopher went on and on.

"Thank you, God, for the table, chairs, floor, drapes, tea, sugar, sweet n' low, the lemons, the ketchup." Finally Christopher thanked God for all the people at the table, calling them all by name. He ended by thanking God for his dog, Spot, who was under the table. He thanked God for everything he could see, except the carrots. He said he didn't like carrots. A four year old learning the attitude of appreciation.

Common sense and scripture tell us that thanksgiving is not something we do just one time a year, but it is to be a daily occurrence in our lives. Centuries ago, the Latin author, Cicero said, "a thankful heart is not only the greatest virtue, but is the parent of all other virtues."

Psalm 107:1, "oh give thanks to the Lord, for He is good, for His lovingkindness is everlasting." I Thessalonians 5:18, "In everything give thanks; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus."

A tourist was traveling in Georgia and he stopped at a fruit stand and bought some peaches. "They certainly are small," he said. "Yep, I know. Aren't you thankful they were small?" replied the farmer. There's always something to be thankful for, if we will just look for it.

Psalm 100:4-5, "Enter His gates with thanksgiving, and His courts with praise. Give thanks to Him; bless His name. For the Lord is good, His lovingkindness is everlasting, and His faithfulness to all generations."
