“Accomplishing Great Things Together”

When we look at God's creation, and it is amazing, it doesn't take us long to realize that His creatures teach some important lessons. One of those lessons is working together. Take a grasshopper for example. In my yard, from time to time, I can see a single grasshopper leap across my back field. But when it joins forces with other grasshoppers, they can do great damage to our flowers and vegetation around our house.

In the book of Proverbs 30:27 it says, “The locusts have no king, yet they all advance in rank.” This verse teaches the power of working together like the grasshoppers do. What they cannot do individually, they are able to accomplish together.

As Christians and members of a local body of Christ, we can learn a lesson from these amazing creatures. As God's spiritual farmers, we can make far more advances in spreading the word of God and bringing the lost to Christ when we labor and pray together than we could ever do alone.

Although the New Covenant urges Christians (us) to possess a personal faith, we also need other believers and other believers need us (Hebrews 10:24-25). In the remainder of this year, let us contribute to the strength and fellowship of the Lord's church so we can be effective in helping the Lord's kingdom grow as the Lord encourages us to do (Romans 15:5-6).
