A Prayerful Request

For many people that call themselves Christians, if a local body of believers pass the following three tests, they will continue to attend worship services at that church:

- * The church is warm and welcoming. . .
- * It has a worship service that brings them pleasure and moves them emotionally. . .
- * It is making an impact for good in the community.

Further, if that local church has those things, they will connect with the people there as long as they experience those three tests. What is missing in their test is something that has been downplayed in churches for some time now. In far too many churches, deep teaching on the great Doctrines of Scripture is a thing of the past and many times almost no attention is given to how doctrine must govern the life of the local church. Acts 2:42; 20:28-32

Because the eldership of this congregation believes that doctrine is relevant and essential to the spiritual health of our local church of our Lord, beginning this September 18th, each Sunday morning in the auditorium, I will begin a new Bible series entitled, "The Lord's Church In The Design Of The Scriptures." Along with the Bible, God's inspired, written word, I will be using two resources for this study, written by the following authors: Dan Chambers and Edward C. Whatson. Both of these authors will help us all understand the distinctive nature of the New Testament church.

This study will have three parts:

Part One – The Distinctive Nature of the Church

Part Two – The Organizational Structure of the Church

Part Three – The Works and Worship of the Church

There will be other subjects discussed as well toward the end of our study together.

My prayerful request is that all members of the Wildwood church family will attend each Sunday and invite others to attend as well. I love you all!

David
